Believe all things are possible

We can't wait to meet you...

All of the teachers at St Bede's are very much looking forward to meeting you, normally during transition weeks you find out about us and we find out about you.

Unfortunately, due to transition being cancelled we won't meet in person, however by completing this booklet you will be able to find out more about our school, our teachers and some of the new subjects that you may not have done much of before.

Starting St Bede's will be an exciting time for you and there is a great deal to look forward to. To prepare you for the start of Year 7, we would like you to complete the tasks inside this booklet. After each subject, there is lined paper for you to complete your task.

It is important that you complete each task to the very best of your ability. You will be required to bring your booklet to each of your lessons during your first week at school, as this will be a crucial part of your learning.

At the start of your second week in school you will be asked to hand this booklet to your personal tutor. There will be a special recognition prize for those pupils who complete the tasks particularly well, so please take pride in your work.

We look forward to seeing you in September.

Meet the English Department...

All the English Teachers at St. Bede's are very much looking forward to meeting you. Normally at this time of year, you meet us; we meet you and together we give you a taster of what is to come in English at St. Bede's. But, until we do meet you, we thought we would introduce ourselves and recommend our favourite childhood books.

TASK: Read the following extract from J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone and find the answers to the questions. Remember to introduce your answer using the question and use quotes to support your ideas (answer in full sentences).

Harry had never been to London before. Although Hagrid seemed to know where he was going, he was obviously not used to getting there in an ordinary way. He got stuck in the ticket barrier on the Underground, and complained loudly that the seats were too small and the trains too slow. "I don't know how the Muggles manage without magic," he said as they climbed a broken-down escalator that led up to a bustling road lined with shops.

Hagrid was so huge that he parted the crowd easily; all Harry had to do was keep close behind him. They passed book shops and music stores, hamburger restaurants and cinemas, but nowhere that looked as if it could sell you a magic wand. This was just an ordinary street full of ordinary people. Could there really be piles of wizard gold buried miles beneath them? Were there really shops that sold spell books and broomsticks? Might this not all be some huge joke that the Dursleys had cooked up?

If Harry hadn't known that the Dursleys had no sense of humour, he might have thought so; yet somehow, even though everything Hagrid had told him so far was unbelievable, Harry couldn't help trusting him. "This is it," said Hagrid, coming to a halt, "the Leaky Cauldron. It's a famous place."

For a famous place, it was very dark and shabby. A few old women were sitting in a corner, drinking tiny glasses of sherry. One of them was smoking a long pipe. A little man in a top hat was talking to the old bartender, who was quite bald and looked like a toothless walnut. The low buzz of chatter stopped when they walked in. Everyone seemed to know Hagrid; they waved and smiled at him, and the bartender reached for a glass, saying, "The usual, Hagrid?" "Can't, Tom, I'm on Hogwarts business," said Hagrid, clapping his great hand on Harry's shoulder and making Harry's knees buckle.

"Good Lord," said the bartender, peering at Harry, "is this? Can this be?" The Leaky Cauldron had suddenly gone completely still and silent. "Bless my soul," whispered the old bartender, "Harry Potter... what an honour." He hurried out from behind the bar, rushed toward Harry and seized his hand, tears in his eyes. "Welcome back, Mr. Potter, welcome back!" Harry didn't know what to say. Everyone was looking at him. The old woman with the pipe was puffing on it without realizing it had gone out.

Hagrid was beaming. Then there was a great scraping of chairs and the next moment, Harry found himself shaking hands with everyone in the Leaky Cauldron. "Doris Crockford, Mr. Potter, can't believe I'm meeting you at last." "So proud, Mr. Potter, I'm just so proud." "Always wanted to shake your hand, I'm all of a flutter." "Delighted, Mr. Potter; just can't tell you, Diggle's the name, Dedalus Diggle." "I've seen you before!" said Harry, as Dedalus Diggle's top hat fell off in his excitement. "You bowed to me once in a shop." "He remembers!" cried Dedalus Diggle, looking around at everyone. "Did you hear that? He remembers me!" Harry shook hands again and again; Doris Crockford kept coming back for more.

A pale young man made his way forward, very nervously. One of his eyes was twitching. "Professor Quirrell!" said Hagrid. "Harry, Professor Quirrell will be one of your teachers at Hogwarts." "P-P-Potter," stammered Professor Quirrell, grasping Harry's hand, "c-can't tell you how p- pleased I am to meet you." "What sort of magic do you teach, Professor Quirrell?" "D-Defence Against the D-D-Dark Arts," muttered Professor Quirrell, as though he'd rather not think about it. "N-not that you n-need it, eh, P-P-Potter?" He laughed nervously. "You'll be g-getting all your equipment, I suppose. I've g-got to p-pick up a new b-book on vampires, m-myself." He looked terrified at the very thought.

But the others wouldn't let Professor Quirrell keep Harry to himself. It took almost ten minutes to get away from them all. At last, Hagrid managed to make himself heard over the babble. "Must get on -- lots ter buy. Come on, Harry." Doris Crockford shook Harry's hand one last time, and Hagrid led them through the bar and out into a small, walled Connor has five times as much money as Jayden.

Connor gives some money to Jayden.

They now have £8.52 each.

How much did Connor have at the start?

80 people take part in a race.

- The ratio of children to adults in the race is 2:3.
- The mean time for the adults is 2 minutes 15 seconds.
- The mean time for all 80 people is 3 minutes.

Find the mean time for the children.

Here are two triangles identical in size.

The two triangles are overlapped.

Words of Wisdom

Here are some quotes off the Year 11's who have just left and The current year 7's. We cannot wait to meet you all in the Autumn Term! Have a lovely summer!

Maths wasn't always my favourite subject but with hard work and determination I started to enjoy it – Freya Coogan Year 11

I think the maths department is great. The teachers are very good and I have learnt a lot since moving up into year 7. You should not be scared as it is way less scary than it is made out to be. – Joseph Gardiner Year 7

The teachers are very helpful and care so much about their subject and students. Even though it seems scary at first, you'll have so much fun! – Eve Durnian Year 11

St Bede's is a great school, full of teachers who work hard for every pupil to succeed. – Sophie Cockerill Year 11

Although Primary is very different from high school, there is nothing to worry about as you will make new friends and learn new things – Scarlett Ainsworth Year 7

The maths department is truly one of the most supportive departments in school. – Sophie Ball Year 11

Go far, Dream big, Because you will never be alone. – Alfie Harrison Year 7

I really enjoy St Bede's because the teachers are really friendly and helpful. – Leah Cookson Year 7

The maths department is full of very supportive and kind teachers who don't hesitate to help you when you need it. – Laura Rigby Year 11

When I first started St Bede's, maths wasn't really my favourite subject. However, during the past five years I have grown to love maths and this is down to having the most supportive teachers. Never give up and always try your best. – Isabella Harrison Year 11

Your task is to watch the official video for
'Cheerleader' by OMI (Felix Jaehn remix) and see if you can answer the following questions

1. Which two of the following instruments do you hear at the very start of the song? (in the INTRO)

Piano

Violin

Guitar

Flute

Cello

Trumpet

2. Which of the following best describes the percussion?

Rock drum kit

OR

Computer generated dance beat plus Bongos and Congas

3. Can you spot the difference between the 1st and 2nd choruses?

4. Please list these elements of the song in the order that you hear them;
The first two have been done for you!

Hints and tips

Intro - The very start of the song, before the singing starts

Verse - Normally the lyrics at the start of the song, tells the story

Bridge - The short section that links the verse and the chorus

Chorus - The catchiest, memorable part of the song, repeated a few times!

Instrumental - Just instruments, no singing.

Middle 8 - Something totally new, not the verse or the chorus!

Outro - often the final chorus with a 'difference', the end of the song.

Before you start—watch this video to help — <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UkAeOYlui4Y>

Task One:

Label these dates from earliest to most recent with 1 being the earliest and 6 the most recent.

1066 AD -

1 AD -

75BC -

1415BC -

2019AD -

1666AD -

Task Two:

In History we often talk about centuries (100 years). The way we work these out is by adding one to the first two numbers of the date, for example 1215 is the 13th century because $12+1=13$.

Can you work these ones out?

1066 =

Drama

Drama is an exciting and creative subject that enables you to use your imagination to gain an insight into real life situations, stories and plays. You will also have to empathise with a range of different characters. In addition to this, you will be introduced to specific key terms that you have not used before.

Below you will find a list of key terms that we would like you to research. You need to write down the definition for each in your own words and be prepared to discuss them in your first Drama lesson.
